How I Got Started

Every human being is the author of his own health or disease. - Buddha

When my son was a little boy, he was chronically ill. For ten years, our only option was to provide him with a variety of medications in hopes of easing his pain. Blindly, we gave away our healing powers to doctors whom we trusted. We experimented and tried several combinations, eliminating those that did not work, which were many.

We were at the mercy of the doctor's knowledge, experience, and time. Western medicine healing protocols started to become unacceptable to us. No one, including children, should have to experiment with medication to get temporary relief. We decided to take matters into our own hands by doing a lot of research and advocating on his behalf.

In the early 1990s, when online search was not readily available, my research came from visiting libraries. As a result of my research, my husband and I decided to make drastic health changes for my son. We elected to turn to more natural remedies.

Changes included eliminating processed and gluten foods and adding supplements. His doctors then were poorly informed when it came to diet and supplements and their influence on health.

Even today, many doctors still do not understand how nutrition, supplements, and mindful practices influence and support physical and emotional health.

Fortunately, my son was helped by eliminating gluten, food preservatives, and MSG. Additional healing tools that aided in his healing were Reiki, Reflexology, and Energy Medicine.
